

first light

gratitude sails with the first light that runs through white sea caps yawning over the headland through the window chink and you couldn't know but you drank it's sunshine while you slept it makes me giddy waiting giddy watching and i'm giddy laying here and happy

when i think that soon
i'll kiss your smile